Black Hills Pregnancy Center Launches 'Legacy of Life' Campaign — Rapid City, SD

BHPC has officially launched a $3 million capital campaign to construct a new pregnancy resource facility serving the greater Black Hills region. The new facility will expand the center's capacity to serve women and families, adding exam rooms, counseling space, and educational programming currently limited by BHPC's 3,000-square-foot facility. Read the full announcement at [link to hosted press release].

The Case For a New Building

Black Hills Pregnancy Center is a non-profit currently located in a building with approximately 5,000 square feet and serves an average of 400+ patients and families per year through free confidential testing, ultrasounds, and pregnancy and parenting support and education to the broader Black Hills region. A new facility will allow us to support 60+ more patients and families, expand our educational programs and services. Because of our 95% “choose life” statistic, every square foot of a larger building will save lives in our region.
